Air activity observed at Alt-Loennowitz airfield between 16 and 19 February 1954 included:

16 February: There was no flying, snow fell throughout the day and visibility was poor.

17 February: Between 11:30 a.m. and 1 p.m., individual Il-10s made local flights of 20 to 25 minutes duration at an altitude of 200 to 300 m. At the same time, a biplane practiced take-offs and landings. Local flying was conducted by Il-10s during the afternoon.

18 February. Between 8 and 9 a.m., the sound of running engines was heard from the airfield. Local flights from 30 to 45 minutes duration were made by Il-10s from about 9:20 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

19 February: From 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., individual Il-10s made local flights in clear weather.

25X1A Comment. The fact that source did not observe Li-2s confirms that the air transport regiment which previously was stationed at the field is now at Neubrandenburg-Trollenhagen . The ground attack regiment remained in Alt-Loennowitz.
